BANKS ASK A REFUND?

Result of Action May be Suit to Recover Money Voluntarily Paid to County

The board of county commissioners of Burleigh county, in concluding lute yesterday the sessions which have been held on the matter of property alleged to have escaped taxation, ordered approximately $8,-000,000 property put on the assessment rolls. The property includes all of the banks in Burleigh county and numerous corporations.

The hanks were ordered listed at the full amount claimed in reports submitted by F. O. Hellstrom, emploved by the county to ferret out roscaped property, and covered for the most part bank stocks for 1919, 1920, 1921 and 1922 The banks during rost of this period had paid taxes to the county under the voluntary settlement offered by the bankers of the state when the supreme court decided the legislature had failed to tax bank stocks. Since that time the legislature has classified bank stock at 50 percent, the valuation on which the banks used taxes under the voluntary agreement. The county puts them on for the full valuation.

As a result of the action, which was opposed here by A. G. Divet, attorney for the bankers' association and local bankers, it is understood that the banks will make a demand that the banks will make a demand on Burleigh county for the refund of the taxes which had been paid voluntarily. They take the position that the commissioners in placing the property on the rolls now rescind their former action in which they accepted the voluntary settlement, and therefore the banks are entitled to scores of victims of Italian more rule have fied in fear of their lives and the entire story can never be teld, Blake said. Tulsa county's "most famous whipping pasture," a spot a mile and a quarter south of Alsuma, was described by Blake as a place of torture from which "strong men stagger away ruined for life."

ASKS CARE IN

It is important to Bismarck that diliphysicians make to the city and district carefully prepared birth and death certificates, Dr. A. A. Whittemore, state health officer, said today. Asking that the point be especially emphasized in Bismarck, he added that since Bismarck is a "hospital city" there are many births and deaths credited to Bismarck which should be credited to other communities. He said many certificates from this county do not show whether or cates.

The child health association will send into North Dakota a camplete field laboratory and a scientific personnel and a house to house campaign to obtain samples of milk for both chemical and bacteriological examination will be made covering a period of about six weeks. All of the larger cities will be covered and many of the smaller towns. Dr. Whittemore Bismarck may be credited with unfavorable death rate.

COMPLETES HER 16TH YEAR AS SCHOOL HEAD

Miss Mary Elizabeth Downey, Director of State Library, Returns From Chautauqua, N. Y.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Downey, chairman of the State Library Commission, has returned from Chautauqua, N. Y., where she has just completed her sixteenth year as director of the Chautauqua Library school, oldest library school in the United States.

During the years of her directorship the school which has been in existence for 25 years, has grown from a small summer school for librarians to an institution of university size, offering more than 200 courses in college subjects.

Entering this work with a missionary spirit and with a vision of what it might be developed into, Miss Downey has gradually made the institution into an educational center with a reputation that has spread not only all over the United States but as far as Europe. It was only after ten years of preliminary work that she was able to place the school on a university basis, with summer courses that equalled regular college work that could be counted toward a degree and with leading professors from universities directing the class es during the summer.

The work of transforming a small technical school into a university summer school occupied but six weks a year of the time of Miss deeper, and the risk of danger is ac-Downey while the remaining months of the year she engaged in her raised by contributions in view of the great demands that are continually made upon the state for erection of public buildings, and on this basis the Tuberculosis association expects to go ahead with present plans.

The work of organizing the libraries of a new state where problems had to be met and the field was new and untried held a particular attraction for Miss Downey. Even when offered more attractive positions so far as salary was concerned, she has refused to enter library work where she would only make use of her ability to read the classic languages - Greek Latin, German, French, Italian and others, and in this way engage in research work, but has felt the pull to engage in the pioneer work. As a result of eight years spent in Utah the state has a library system that is referred to as one of the finest considering the population and local conditions of any state in the Union. As soon however, as the pioneer work has been completed, invitations to enter upon a new field of work is so atafter it has once been started into operation and begins similar work in a new field-and for her new fields are enter upon all kinds of work come to her regularly every year.

The building, as planned, would be erected on the state grounds at Dunseith, part of which are now occupied by the state sanitarium for adults who are suffering from tuberculosis. It would be fully equipped and a special nurse and a teacher would be provided for the care and education of the inmates.

Interest Shown

Considerable interest in the proposed preventorium has been shown throughout the state, Miss Haugen said, and it is believed that people, who are in position to do so, will be glad to aid in the project if they once learn the real necessity of and realize the small chance that is said to exist of curing children at the present institution.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Downey, Director of State Library, Returns From Chautaugua, N. Y.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Downey, chairman of the State Library Commission, has returned from Chautau-qua, N. Y., where she has just completed her sixteenth year as director of the Chautanqua Library school, oldest library school in the

During the years of her directorship the school which has been in existence for 25 years, has grown from a small summer school for librarians to an institution of university size, offering more than 200 courses in college subjects.

Entering this work with a missionary spirit and with a vision of what it might be developed into, Miss Downey has gradually made the institution into an educational center with a reputation that has spread not only all over the United States but as far as Europe. It was only after ten years of preliminary work that she was able to place the school on a university basis, with summer courses that equalled regular college work that could be counted toward degree and with leading professors from universities directing the class-

The work of organizing the libraries of a new state where problems had to be met and the field was new had to be met and the held was new and untried held a particular attrac-tion for Miss Howney. Even when offered more attractive positions so far as salary was concerned, she refused to enter library work where she would only make use of her ability to read the classic languages — Greek Latin, German, French, Italian and others, and in this way engage in research work, but has felt the pull to engage in the pioneer work. As a result of eight years spent in Utah the state has a library system that is referred to as one of the finest considering the population and local conditions of any state in the Union. As soon, however, as the pioneer work has been completed, invitations to enter upon a new field of work is so at-Prictive that Miss Downey, has been unable to resist. She leaves her field never lacking, for urgent requests to a enter upon all kinds of work come to her regularly every year.

There isn't much relaxation of tense nerves when we combine hard work with our exercise.

The average person who "needs exercise" usually is the it that is the right figure, are the victim of nerves rather than of physical inactivity. This slaughterers of the innocent. The growth of automobile use the fools of the public in peril.

The person who feels "all run down" should start his building-up campaign by getting plenty of sleep. Also by lying down several times during the day, for about 20 minutes at a time, to rest the overworked heart. Remember, when we're standing up the heart has to pump the blood stream the full height of the body. When lying down, gravity helps—the blood flows parallel with the ground, like water through horizontal pines. water through horizontal pipes.

The second big need is fresh air and lots of it.

Exercise comes third. Combine it with play, to relax the ADVENTURE OF nerves. There'll be plenty of time to scrub the floors and do other physical labor later.

Finally, the thing that is wrecking the nerves of the American people is needless rush-hurry at breakneck speed and without any special destination. We have to speed up at our work but it's time to slow down and "take things easy" when the bell rings and we quit our jobs until tomorrow.

TO LIVE LONG

The average American now lives to the age of 56, compared with 41 back in 1870. But, by 1950, people will have life span of 70 years, predicts Dr. George Martin Kober of Georgetown University Medical School.

His prediction, of course, is based on a supposition that people will increasingly live more sensibly and correctly.

We hope so. But Doc certainly is an optimist.

Four hundred years ago the average length of human life was somewhere between 18 and 20 years. And it was only 25 years, as late as 1800. A gain of about five years in two centuries. There has been a gain of 31 years in the average life span since 1800. Reople live longest in New Zealand, averaging 60 years at death. In India the average age of death is before 25.

These "average" figures, however, are arrived at by adding up and striking an average of all deaths, including babies. The gain has been mostly in cutting down the death rate among children, especially babies. This has raised the average. It is doubtful whether there are any more people living to "a ripe old age" than formerly. Or even as many, for that

The gain has been made largely in cradle years. As regards individuals who reach maturity, they seem to die at about the same average age as in former generations.

As far back as 1908, experts estimated that three million Americans were constantly on the sick-list, and that 42 out of every 100 of these illnesses were preventable cases. Similar situation today. When people succumb to preventable diseases, they generally are victims of their own carelessness. This carelessness in many cases results from underestimating their personal value in cold dollars and cents. For instance, take a man with an income of $3000 a year. Now, $3000 is 6 per cent interest on an investment of $50,000. If the $3000-a-year man had an auto or any other machine worth $50,000 he would insure it against every possibility of districter, and he would care for it as if it were a priceless ossession. You can imagine a radio bug neglecting a $50,-000 receiving station if he owned it.

On the other hand, the $3000-a-year man often neglects his $50,000 body as if it were an old bit of junk. Give your body a square deal. Treat it with the consider-and care that its high value deserves.

HIGHWAY DANGERS

In former years the country was horrified at intervals by terrible reilroad catastrophes in which many people were killed. Col-lapse of trestles and collisions caused most of the fatalities. For roads have been constantly strengthened. Wooden trestles have been succeeded by concrete embankments as the weight of trains increased. Wooden coaches have been displaced by steel cars. Traffic regulations have been improved in every possible way, and serious accidents have become rare events. But a new engine which des'roys human life has come into human use—the automobile. Today the public highways and city streets are as dangerous as the railroads were forty or fifty years ago. The slaughter they cause is appalling in the aggregate, and so far no regulations, city or state. have been able to check the swelling list of aids because of the bad judgment and speeding of people who ought to the danger of all on the road. look and listen. who take sharp People, when they "exercise," want to get away from curves at high speed, who turn to engage in convers tion with peo ple in the rear seats, and drive when under alcoholic influence, are making roads and streets highly dangerous for all who must

Attempts Made To Break Up Band Of Cattle Rustlers

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 7 .- Pennington county authorities have made a good start in the work of breaking up what is alleged to have been the boldest band of cattle "rustlers" who have operated in the eastern foothills of the Black Hills in recent years. The operations of the rustlers have been so bold that ranchers of of different publishers. S. Hello Girls to Supply Weather

London, Sept. 7 .- Pity the English telephone girls! They are supposed to be able to tell people hat the weather will be like. In this, their newest duty, perhaps they will receive a sigh or two of sympathy from the operators of switchboards in America who for many years bore the suffering of having subscribers ring up to ask "What time is it please? My clock has stopped."

Not long ago the Post Office, which owns all the telephones in Great Britain, arranged with the Air Ministry to supply each exchange with daily forecasts of the weather in its vicinity. The first month this information was available to subscribers 10,172 persons called up to find out if it was going to rain. Of course it usually was, the way of British weather being a wet one. In London most of the inquiries were made or Fridays and Saturdays. This was taken to mean that the only time people really care about climate over here is when they are set for an outing. People, when they "exercise," want to get away from

After all, it's a good thing for us to try to get our physical exercise in the form of play. Exercise helps the muscles and internal organs, but play makes the nerves relax, which is just as important as developing the muscles.

There isn't much relaxation of tense nerves when we combine hard work with our exercise.

The average person who "needs exercise" usually is the victim of nerves rather than of physical inactivity. This can be proved by going to bed and staying a week, thereby getting rest and nerve relaxation that will do many of us as much good as a whole season of golf.

It's a mistake to start a campaign of strenuous exerc'se unless we're prepared to get more hours of sleep than we've been used to.

Sleep does us more good than all the pills, serums and other forms of "dope" ever devised.

The person who feels "all run down" should start his building-up campaign by getting plenty of sleep. Also by r lying down several times during the day, for about 20 minutes at a time, to rest the overworked heart. Remember, when we're standing up the heart has to pump the blood stream the full height of the body. When lying down, gravity kelps—the blood flows parallel with the ground, like water through horizontal pipes.

The second big need is fresh air and lots of it.

Exercise comes third. Combine it with play, to relax the nerves. There'll be plenty of time to scrub the floors and do other physical labor later.

Figally, the thing that is wrecking the nerves of the American people is needless rush—hurry at breakneck speed and without any special destination. We have to speed un at our work but it's time to slow down and "take things easy" when the bell rings and we quit our jobs until tomorrow.

TO LIVE LONG

The average American now lives to the age of 56, compared with 41 back in 1870. But, by 1950, people will have life span of 70 years, predicts Dr. George Martin Kober of Georgetown University Medical School.

His prediction, of course, is based on a supposition that people will increasingly live more sensibly and correctly. We hope so. But Doc certainly is an optimist.

Four hundred years ago the average length of human life was somewhere between 18 and 20 years. And it was only 25 years, as late as 1800. A gain of about five years in two centuries.

There has been a gain of 31 years in the average life span since 1800.

Reople live longest in New Zealand, averaging 60 years at death. In India the average age of death is before 25. These "average" figures, however, are arrived at by adding up and striking an average of all deaths, including babies. The gain has been mostly in cutting down the death rate among children, especially babies. This has raised the aver-The gain has been mostly in the three are any more people living age. It is doubtful whether there are any more people living and throw you off."

Suddenly there was a queer rating noise almost under their feet and in less time than it would take the gards individuals who reach maturity, they seem to die at about the same average age as in former generations.

As far back as 1908, experts estimated that three million Americans were constantly on the sick-list, and that 42 out of every 100 of these illnesses were preventable cases. Similar situation today.

When people succumb to preventable diseases, they gencrally are victims of their own carelessness. This carelessness a many cases results from underestimating their personal value in cold dollars and cents.

For instance, take a man with an income of $3000 a year.

Now 33000 is 6 per cent interest on an investment of $50,000.

Yhe was after renny Prairie Dog. We'd better go If the $3000-a-year man had an auto or any other machine; back and see if we can help him-worth $50,000 he would insure it against every possibility of Penny, I mean." If the $3000-a-year man had an auto or any other machine disaster, and he would care for it as if it were a priceless possession. You can imagine a radio bug neglecting a $50.-000 receiving station if he owned it.

On the other hand, the $3000-a-year man often neglects his $50,000 body as if it were an old bit of junk. Give your body a square deal. Treat it with the consideration and care that its high value deserves.

Bradley Says No Need For Community Chest—Use Old Method

Plans for conducting the Seventh Annual Red Cross Roll Call which will be held Oct. 1 to 15 were discusced at the meeting of the Execu-tive session of the Burleigh county Red Cross committee last evening. At a noon day luncheon at the County Club Monday the chairmen of the two districts, Philip Elliott of Bismarck and C. F. Kelsh of Mandan of this part of the state and a number of officials, including J. P. Hardy of Fargo, director of the Seventh Annual Red Cross Roll Call in North Dakota, A. L. Dr. A. A. Whittemore, state health officer, discussed the significance of the Shepard-Towner Bill, explaining the methods by means of which the counties or cities might obtain an amount equal to that which they would raise from the Federal gov ernment in the carrying on public health work.

Judge W. L. Nuesale pointed out that the acceptance of this "federal aid" would tend to increase the centralization of the Federal government at Washington and to weaken local independence.

A. F. Bradley, secretary of the Association of Commerce, stated at the meeting that after a conference with Miss Mary Cashel, social worker, it had been decided that it would be unnecessary to have a Community Chest drive, that sufficient money for emergency relief could be obtained out of the civilian relief fund for the Red Cross as in the past.

Mr. Bradley commended the work which Miss Cashel was doing, em-phasizing the fact that she had relieved the city and county by seeing that proper organizations took charge of needy cases. In a number of in- just returned from an inspection, stances of relief cases different counties or states have taken over their care as a result of her efforts.

rying trained men of the Bureau of Mines, equipped with oxygen breathing apparatus, to help in imaginary mine disasters. Other fields are to be located at mining towns within reasonable flying range of Birmingham, the mine reacue station.

The bureau maintains ten railway cars and seven auto trucks equipped for mine-rescue purposes, but it often requires considerable time to send these mobile units to remote mining camps where they are needed in emergencies. It is hoped to demonstrate the value of the air route in supplementing the work of these cars, especially in reaching the eamps where fields are available.

Much of Danger of Flying Removed in This Section, Says Lieut. Bertrandias

North Dakota is a great aviation country, Lieut. Victor Bertrandias who, with Lieut, Kenneth Garrett, arrived here about noon in an army pathfinding airplane, declared after making an easy landing near the state highway commission shops and njoying luncheon in the city.

"We are out to inspect and locate landing fields," said Lieut Bertrandias. "But this whole Northwest is one great landing field. Its perfect for aviation and removes most of the hazards. I don't understand why here isn't more flying up here."

The lieutenants said they arrived over Bismarck at 11:56 a. m., and after circling about landed near the highway commission shops instead of at Fort Lincoln. Their actual flying time from Fargo, they said, was two hours and twenty minutes. They are not, they added, out for any speed record.

Secretary A. F. Bradley of the Association of Commerce met the avistors and with William Gettleman of the highway commission brought them into the city. Mr. Bradley sees possibilities of Bismarck becoming an important station on an air mail oute from Chicago to Seattle.

"It seems to me that so far there s a perfect air mail route," said Lieut. Bertrandias. "You could fly from Chicago to Bismarck easily in one day, without night flying. I'd like to see a municipal air park at

As an example of what he considers the great advantage of this secsaid the machine developed ignition trouble after leaving Fargo. He was piloting the ship and he signaled Lieut. Garrett to take the controls, While flying, Lieut. Bertrandias with a pair of pliers took the switch apart and regulated the voltage. No avi ator would attempt to do this over a large city, he said, but since he saw perfect landing fields all around there appeared no danger if he did kill the engine while repairing it.

The ship is an army DeHaviland with a Liberty motor. The aviators left Mitchell Field, Long Island, on Stimular and to Bismanck had over Saturday, and to Bismarck had cov-ered 2,162 miles since Saturday.

They will go on to the coast to San Francisco and then back east by the air mail route. They will cover about 6,300 miles, en route. The only difficulty they have had in landing was near Chicago, where they were forced to come down in a corn field in darkness. Both declared it was pure luck that they got lown without breaking their necks.

Improved style, more graceful lines and a lower appearance, are out-standing features of the new Ford Touring Car.

These all have been effected through the higher radiator. The cowl has been enlarged and drops in a graceful sweep to meet the larger hood, giving the entire car body generally longer lines. At the same time the attractive-ness of the one-man top and slant-

The exterior appearance of the car is given a further touch of completeness by the new apron on the radiator which connects with fender skirts, bringing a highly finished appearcar types.

Another improvement resulting from the larger cowl is the increase in leg room afforded occupants of the front seat, making for more comfort in riding.
